

Solutions in Risk Assessment

Risk Assessment has been a legal requirement for many years. Businesses are still being punished for failing to ensure suitable and sufficient assessments of risk are carried out. Has your business done risk assessments that would satisfy this requirement, indeed what does it mean to be suitable and sufficient? If risk assessment is done properly it will help your business to succeed by reducing costs and increasing market share.

Risk Assessments should:-

- ◆ Identify significant hazards
- ◆ Identify persons at risk including specific persons at greater risk
- ◆ Evaluate risk in terms of likelihood and consequence, decide if risk is managed adequately and if not make recommendations to manage the risk better
- ◆ Record the significant findings
- ◆ Be reviewed at appropriate intervals

The list of risk assessments required might include:-

- | | | |
|---------------------------------|-------------------------|---------------------|
| ◆ Fire | ◆ Workplace | ◆ Contractors |
| ◆ Working at Height | ◆ Work Equipment | ◆ Manual handling |
| ◆ Chemicals | ◆ Noise | ◆ Lifting equipment |
| ◆ Equipment | ◆ Vibration HAV and WBV | ◆ Transport |
| ◆ Asbestos | ◆ Thermal Environment | ◆ Lone working |
| ◆ Electrical | ◆ Lighting environment | ◆ Violence |
| ◆ Personal protective equipment | ◆ Stress | ◆ Disability |
| | ◆ Biological | |

And many more! It's up to you to decide what presents a risk and you must do a risk assessment. It is important to realise that each one of these has its own legislation and standards of compliance.

You must manage risk either by elimination or by using an agreed hierarchy of control approach.

JRL Solutions Ltd works to appropriate standards to address these problems including reference to:-

- ◆ Health and Safety Acts
- ◆ Appropriate Regulations
- ◆ Approved Codes of Practice and Guidance
- ◆ Sector best practice

and particularly the implications for your business of new legislation such as the Corporate Manslaughter and Corporate Homicide Act
